Write a story that ends “so monkey could not transform into a human being” COMPREHENSION READ THE PASSAGE BELOW AND ANSWER THE QUESTIONS THAT FOLLOW. Why do people sing songs about the rain? The atmosphere is a super-thin layer of gasses that covers the whole earth. What the atmosphere is doing on a particular day is what we call the weather. Weather, with its breezy cool evenings and moisty hot afternoons, heats and cools the earth. People sing songs and tell stories about the rain, and other weather, because its vital for growing food and keeping healthy. And our atmosphere is like a blanket that keeps us just the right temperature to live. Did you realise that your breath helps grow trees and	Give Learners exercise on samples of the examination questions to answer in their exercise books.

		makes atmosphere? People and plants need each other. People breathe out a gas called carbon-dioxide, and it goes into the air. Plants use that carbon-dioxide to grow. Then plants release a gas called oxygen. Oxygen is what people breath in, and what their bodies use, together with food, to make energy. These gases and others make the fragile atmosphere all around us. - The super-thin layer of gases that covers the whole earth is..... - According to the passage, how did the writer explain weather? - According to the passage, which type makes trees to grow? - Our bodies use.....together with food to make energy. - Where does the gas plants release go?
